FEAR NOT! BE STILL AND KNOW THAT I AM GOD! Today Thru the Eyes of the Spirit God spoke this Word to Faye:

Their plot and demonic scheme is going to backfire. The world will see and take notice the hand of God is on President Trump and the USA. Our prayers are breaking powers of darkness and the Lord reveals to us "before things happen" to guide us in spiritual warfare intercession and action. God is using this plague to allow America to look in the mirror. His Word says when we backslide to go back and do our first works over.

Do the First Works! August 31, 2017

Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works.... — Revelation 2:5

It's not enough just to say "you're sorry." That is not genuine repentance. Real repentance, as described on March 18 and 19, describes an inward change that results in outward change. Real, inward repentance shows forth evidence that repentance has occurred. Jesus told the church at Ephesus that they needed to repent and "do the first works." That word "do" refers to the outward actions I am describing — the outward proof of repentance.

The word "do" is the Greek word poieo, a word that is used 568 times in the New Testament; thus, its meaning is well established in New Testament writings. It literally means to do, but it conveys much more. This word poieo describes all types of activity, particularly the idea of creativity. For example, the Greek word poiotes — a form of the word poieo — is the source of the word poet, which denotes one who has the extraordinary ability to write or create a certain literary form. Thus, this word describes doing that produces results.

Because the word poieo is connected to the creative activity of an author, poet, or painter, let's pause to consider what is required for this type of creative person to produce excellent work. It takes concentration and commitment for a poet to write a poem or for an artist to paint a masterpiece. The person must free himself from all distractions so his mind, emotions, and talent can focus on the specific project before him.

When an author or artist can concentrate exclusively on a creative assignment, he is able to put forth an all-out effort and release his full potential to produce a masterful work. Although it may be true that a great work can be produced with intermittent interruptions, the removal of distractions for the purpose of a more concentrated focus enables one to achieve the best results with greater speed.

This is significant in light of Revelation 2:5, where the tense of the word poieo calls for urgent and quick action. Anything less than a serious response would be found insufficient. Therefore, great effort, prayer, and concentration would be required if the Ephesian believers were to return to their first love and replicate the works that accompanied their early faith.

It is obvious that Christ expected the best from these believers — which would only be achieved if they responded to Him with their best effort. And because the Greek tense demands urgent and quick action, it is certain that Jesus wasn't willing to wait endlessly for them to respond. If they didn't heed

His words, they would lose their position of spiritual leadership in Asia (see Revelation 2:5).

But what specifically was Jesus commanding this church to do? He told them in verse 5: "Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works...."

The phrase "first works" comes from the Greek words prota erga. The word prota means first or early, and the word erga means works, deeds, or activity, conveying the idea of work that is produced by consistent and tireless effort. Although the King James Version translates this Greek phrase as "first works," it could actually be interpreted, "the actions that were indicative of you at the first" or "the things you did in the very beginning."

Jesus commanded them to return to their "first works." He was referring to the words, deeds, and activities that characterized the Ephesian congregation at the beginning of their spiritual journey when they first fell in love with Jesus Christ. What were these "first works" that once distinguished the church of Ephesus?

Scripture reveals several characteristics of this prominent church in its early beginnings:

WATCH FAYE ON YOUTUBE

- They possessed a great spiritual hunger
- (see Acts 18:20).
- They enjoyed rich fellowship among the brethren (see Acts 18:27).
- They had an eagerness to repent and to receive what God had for them (see Acts 19:1-6).
- They cherished the Word of God (see Acts 19:8).
- They sacrificed their religious reputation for Jesus (see Acts 19:9).
- They were committed to applying God's Word to their lives (see Acts 19:10).
- They were receptive to the power of God and to the gifts of the Spirit (see Acts 19:11,12).
- They loved Jesus and the wonder-working power associated with His name (see Acts 19:17).
- They were quick to confess their sin and turn from their evil works (see Acts 19:18).
- They severed all connections with a pagan past at great personal cost (see Acts 19:19).
- They were publicly persecuted for the sake of Christ (see 1 Corinthians 15:32).
- They were faith-filled (see Ephesians 1:15).
- They were known for their love of the brethren (see Ephesians 1:15)

All of the qualities listed above characterized this passionate, vibrant congregation in its early years. The fact that Christ called for them to return to doing these "first works" doesn't necessarily mean they had become completely void of these attributes. However, it is evident that the intensity of their zeal had radically diminished. Thus, Christ urged them to remember, to repent, and to do the first works for these reasons: Remembering how the fire of God once burned in their hearts was essential.

Only by remembering what they used to be could the Ephesian believers realize how far they had drifted. Repentance was God's requirement.

An acknowledgment and confession of sin was the place to begin. If they were willing to humble themselves and repent, it would lead to their restoration and spare them from impending judgment.

Repentance demands proof. A person who confesses his sin with no intention of changing is doing nothing more than admitting his guilt. He is not exhibiting genuine repentance. True repentance is always accompanied by corresponding actions. Regarding the Ephesian believers, Jesus made it clear that the proof of their repentance would be a return to a passionate pursuit of intimately knowing Him.

hast transgressed against the LORD thy God, and hast scattered thy ways to the strangers under every green tree, and ye have not obeyed my voice, saith the LORD. 14 Turn, O backsliding children, saith the LORD; for I am married unto you: and I will take you one of a city, and two of a family, and I will bring you to Zion: 15 And I will give you pastors according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and understanding. 16 And it shall come to pass, when ye be multiplied and increased in the land, in those days, saith the LORD, they shall say no more, The ark of the covenant of the LORD: neither shall it come to mind: neither shall they remember it; neither shall they visit it; neither shall that be done any more. 17 At that time they shall call Jerusalem the throne of the LORD; and all the nations shall be gathered unto it, to the name of the LORD, to Jerusalem: neither shall they walk any more after the imagination of their evil heart.

Look at 1st Samuel 3: The word of the LORD rare in those days because of the hardness of heart among the people of Israel and the corruption of the priesthood. God will speak, and guide, when His people seek Him, and when His ministers seek to serve Him diligently.

DANGEROUS DEMOCRATS, COMMUNISTS, AND CHINA COULD NOT BRING THE USA TO OUR KNEES By Cliff Kincaid March 16, 2020

THESE ARE THE FACTS: Coronavirus, China's lies, and bioweapons research Americans are trying to stay safe, as government attempts to contain the spread of the coronavirus. As this unfolds, let's hope that our "intelligence agencies" are taking an objective and honest look at where this virus came from – and whether other diseases are being planned for America and the world. A recent case of alleged "academic espionage" involving China raises the specter of American involvement in Chinese medical and/or biological warfare research.

In making the charge that the Chinese coronavirus originated in the United States, the Chinese have taken a page out of the old Soviet playbook. As concern about AIDS was growing in the 1980s, the Soviet Union launched a disinformation campaign charging that an American military laboratory had developed the virus that caused HIV/AIDS. The Soviets were lying in order to cover-up their own biological weapons program. Is this what inspires the Chinese lies? The Soviet campaign included a Pravda cartoon showing an American military officer receiving a vial with the AIDS virus in exchange for providing cash to a doctor in a lab coat. Dead bodies are on the ground around them.

In one of the most notorious examples of Communist disinformation appearing in the U.S. media, then-CBS Evening News anchor Dan Rather picked up this story. He reported in a matter-of-fact way, in a newscast on March 30, 1987, that a Soviet publication had charged that an American military laboratory had developed the virus that caused the AIDS epidemic. He did not accompany this charge with any comment from the Pentagon or the State Department.

The liberal anchorman had fallen for a Soviet ploy to use the AIDS charge against the U.S. as a way to divert attention from the Soviet program to develop Ebola and other viruses as weapons. This story had been exposed as Soviet disinformation even before Rather aired it. Former KGB officer Oleg Gordievsky later admitted the Soviet KGB role in spreading the AIDS charge against the U.S. in his book, KGB – The Inside Story, calling the charge a “fabrication” that “also took in some of the Western media.”

In the end, the Soviets placed the charge in over 200 publications, as well as radio broadcasts, in 25 different languages. This is the model the Chinese are using to divert attention away from them. The Soviet campaign was so effective that the Wilson Center featured a discussion, “The AIDS Conspiracy: KGB and Stasi Disinformation,” looking back at how the Soviets ran the campaign in association with the East Germany intelligence service. A subsequent report goes into substantial detail.

The reason we should revisit this controversy is to understand why the Chinese communists are using the same kind of disinformation today. The motives behind the Soviet campaign involved far more than just smearing the United States. The Soviet campaign was designed to distract attention from its own biological weapons program. Ken Alibek, deputy chief of the main Soviet biological weapons laboratory, disclosed in his book Biohazard that the Soviets had explored AIDS as a weapon but concluded it was too unstable for use. However, he said they did add smallpox to their arsenal. The Soviets tried to cover up a biological weapons disaster at their own Army biological research facility at Sverdlovsk, blaming the deaths on tainted meat.

Similarly, it is reasonable to assume that the Chinese disinformation attacking the U.S. Army as the source of the coronavirus is designed to divert public attention from what has been going on behind the scenes in Chinese labs. Alibek's book describes outbreaks of hemorrhagic fever in China in the 1980s that were caused by an accident in a lab "where Chinese scientists were weaponizing viral diseases."

In an interesting development, on January 28, as the coronavirus virus was spreading to the United States and Europe, the Department of Justice announced that Dr. Charles Lieber, the Chair of Harvard University's Chemistry and Chemical Biology Department, and two Chinese nationals had been charged in connection with aiding Communist China. (Lieber and his lawyers declined comment).

Lieber has his own Lieber Research Group at Harvard. The web page says, "The Lieber group is focused broadly on science and technology at the nanoscale, harnessing the unique physical properties of novel nanomaterials to push scientific boundaries in biology and medicine."

What's fascinating is the "sponsors" listed on the bottom of the page. They include the National Institutes of Health, the Office of Naval Research, the Air Force Office of Scientific Research, the Defense Advanced Projects Research Agency, and MITRE, a "research and development" center claiming to be "solving problems for a safer world."

One of the Chinese nationals, according to the DOJ news release, is alleged to have tried to smuggle vials of biological material in his socks that he obtained from the Harvard-affiliated Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center. Another Chinese national, Yanqing Ye, was identified as a Lieutenant of the People's Liberation Army (PLA), the armed forces of the People's Republic of China, and member of the Chinese Communist Party (CCP).

We are being told by our media and their "fact-checkers" that none of this has anything to do with the coronavirus. But the sensational allegations in this reported case of "academic espionage" are that Lieber, who became a "Strategic Scientist" at Wuhan University of Technology (WUT) in China, was getting paid big bucks to establish a research lab at WUT. What's more, the DOJ said that Lieber has received more than $15,000,000 in grant funding from the National Institutes of Health (NIH) and Department of Defense (DOD).

At a time when Congress seems eager to pile more billions of dollars on the NIH in order to fight coronavirus, shouldn't this scandal be investigated to find out where in fact the money has been going, for what purpose, and to whom? Has American expertise been tapped to make China's secret labs and to engineer viruses to sicken and kill the people of the United States and the world?

Note that a separate entity, the secretive and controversial Wuhan Institute of Virology, has international "partners" that include the NIH and Harvard. Is there an American connection to coronavirus after all?

President Donald Trump speaks with Fox News anchor Bill Hemmer during a virtual town hall meeting from the Rose Garden of the White House Tuesday. Tuesday, 24 March 2020 01:23 PM

With lives and the economy hanging in the balance, President Donald Trump was weighing Tuesday how to refine nationwide social-distancing guidelines to put some workers back on the job amid the coronavirus outbreak. The White House is eyeing ways to ease the advisories that have sidelined workers, shuttered schools and led to a widespread economic slowdown. The U.S. is now more than a week into an unprecedented 15-day effort to encourage all Americans to drastically scale back their public activities.

"We have to get back to work," Trump said during a virtual town hall Tuesday afternoon hosted by Fox News from the Rose Garden. He argued that tens of thousands of Americans die from the seasonal flu or in automobile accidents and "we don't turn the country off."

Prayer Targets: Dr. Dave Butts; Coronavirus Prayer; U.S. Economy; President & Pastors

March 25, 2020

In his name the nations will put their hope.
(Matthew 12:21)

Dr. David Butts (bio) is an author, Bible teacher, President of Harvest Prayer Ministries, President of Gospel Revivals, Inc. (Herald of His Coming), and Chairman of the National Prayer Committee. These excerpts are from his valuable Prayer Guide, Praying the Word over the Coronavirus Crisis:

Many believers are worried as the Coronavirus ravages the earth. And yet, we have an All-Powerful Father who was not surprised in the least by this seemingly catastrophic event in world history.

1. Pray that a repentant people would turn to God seeking revival. John Avant of Life Action Ministries recently said, "...Since He inhabits our lives, we live in His control... empowered with His purpose... a part of His plan... BUT...

we have departed from Him. I have and you have. As we stay distant from Him, numb to His call to repent... we will feel out of control until we give up our own control and humbly cry out, 'I am the problem!... One thing above all is more important in these days (of dealing with Coronavirus) than washing our hands, it is to return to God and let Him wash our hearts!'"

Prayer: Father God, Creator of the Universe, we bow our hearts before You in repentance. We've tried to control our circumstances and figure out the unknown rather than placing our trust in You. Forgive us, Lord, and turn our hearts back towards Yours...We bless You, Lord, and ask for mercy as we humble ourselves before You.

2. Pray for God's people to resist the devil and have the abundant life Jesus gives us so that others might have it too. "The thief does not come but to steal, and to kill, and to destroy. I have come that they may have life, and that they may have it more abundantly" (Jn 10:10). "Therefore submit to God. Resist the devil and he will flee from you" (Jas 4:7)

Prayer: Lord Jesus, You came to give all who follow You life - not just any kind of life -- abundant life! Strengthen us to be the church You called us to be so we might draw others into this abundant life. Help us stand firm with Your spiritual armor in place (Eph. 6:10-18), having great faith so that we might extinguish the flaming arrows of the evil one (v. 16). Help us to live extraordinary lives of service, compassion, and generosity so those outside of Christ will want what we have....

3. Pray God's people will overcome fear and anxiety with peace... "Be anxious for nothing, but in everything by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known to God; and the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding will guard your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus" (Php 4:6-7; Jn 16:33).

Prayer: Prince of Peace, You calmed waves and storms and people wherever You went. May we be carriers of Your peace even when we cannot comprehend the scope of this destructive virus that threatens the lives and livelihoods of many... Guard our hearts and minds so that our emotions and thoughts are tuned into You instead of the uncertainty that swirls around us. Help us to be overcomers who help others...rather than those who live in fear and do nothing but help ourselves.

4. Pray for the church to rise to the opportunities God is giving us to show compassion, creativity and unity that will show off the power of Jesus. What if the church became the shining light on the hill, a beacon of hope and transformation, the Living Gospel of Jesus to our communities?

Prayer: Compassionate Christ, help Your church...[do] all she can to meet needs, bring hope, give encouragement, promote unity and creatively reach people with the Gospel. Give us courage and strength to do the extraordinary. Bring us into unity with one another across faith traditions to help in whatever ways we can, coming alongside of our local, state and federal government officials, first responders, the medical community and social services to meet the needs of people in unprecedented ways...Pray Jesus' prayer, "That they all may be one, as You, Father, are in Me, and I in You; that they also may be one in Us, that the world may believe that You sent Me..." (Jn 17:21-26).

5. Ask God to protect the elderly and those in compromised health situations who are the most vulnerable to this virus. We all know people who fall into the high-risk group for being susceptible to Covid-19. Maybe you are in that group and are concerned. Remember Psalm 23... Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for You are with me...Let's join together and ask God for protection of anyone of any age who is at risk and to bring healing to those who are ill as well. "Beloved, I pray that you may prosper in all things and be in health, just as your soul prospers" (3 Jn 1:2).

Prayer: Lord our God, You are good and filled with mercy. You are filled with compassion and love all You have made (Ps 145). We ask You to remove sickness from our midst: "So you shall serve the Lord your God, and He will bless your bread and your water. And I will take sickness away from the midst of you"

(Ex. 23:25)...Please protect those who are elderly, have compromised immune systems, or other health issues that put them at high risk for this disease. We ask for Your divine intervention and protection and that You will help healthy people to take great care to protect others and serve them.

God's People and the American Economy --
The stock market surged yesterday and today after an unprecedented two-week decline. The Dow climbed more than 11 percent Tuesday, its biggest one-day gain since 1933. World markets followed. Senate negotiators struck an equally unprecedented $2 trillion stimulus bill early this morning to ease the economic fallout from the coronavirus pandemic and help our threatened economy. The House will likely vote on it tomorrow. The bill passed by the Senate was purged of support for Planned Parenthood and controversial measures unacceptable to most Americans.

But while the stock market decline may have been slowed or stopped, giving hope to millions of retirees, it is time for God's people amid the economic and health crisis to repent and preach the gospel to the lost -- the high and low, rich and poor, the old and young, the outwardly religious and open sinners of our day. America and our churches have been in a steep, spiraling, moral and spiritual decline. While the virus spread and the economy fell, online pornography use increased dramatically, and marijuana shops were intentionally exempted from store closing orders. It is time to seek the Lord! Hedonism threatens to destroy our nation and steal all our historic blessings.

- God, you have promised nations every conceivable blessing if we will but honor you and obey your commands. But you also promise poverty if we disregard and disobey you, using economic troubles to shake us to think and consider our ways, our sins, and to return to you, our Savior and Provider. The eyes of the world are upon our nation, God. Please help us wholeheartedly to seek your face. Refire our commitment to obey your great commandments and commission now, while we have time. (Lev 26: all; Dt 28: all; Mt 5:13-16; 22:36-40; 28:18-20; Mk 16:15-20)

- Pray for the healing of Donnie Swaggart.
